EMBASSIES WILL AID RUSSIANS IN FIGHTING HUNS

Allied Staffs Decide Not to Break Relations at Petrograd in Any Event.

CAST FORTUNES WITH BOLSHIEVSKI GOVERNMENT

Washington, Feb. 22.—Ambassador Francis advised the state department today of the intention of the diplomatic corps in Petrograd to leave the city with the bolshievski government if the Germans menace the city.

The American ambassador gave no details as to the plans of the diplomatic corps, but added that the Soviet government was planning to make a defense of the city, if necessary.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—In their new invasion of Russian territory the German forces have reached Walk, in Livonia, ninety miles northeast of Riga, it was announced today by the German general staff.

In Volhynia the Teuton armies marching from Lutsk have reached the town of Dubno.

Petrograd, Feb. 22.—The allied embassies will leave Petrograd in the event that the German advance threatens the city. They are ready, however, to aid Russia to fight the Germans.

The embassies are virtually unanimous in a decision not to break relations in any event. If Petrograd is actually threatened the embassy staffs probably will proceed inland with the bolshievski government wherever it may move.

London, Feb. 23.—Austrian and Ukrainian troops are approaching Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, now held by the bolshievski, according to dispatches from Petrograd in the late editions of the morning newspapers. It is said that Polish legionaries aided the Germans in occupying Minsk.

Petrograd newspapers, it is added, report that Russian soldiers on the northern front seized twenty-seven trains, which are being used to carry 40,000 of the soldiers to Moscow. The Germans are taking no prisoners, merely disarming the Russians and liberating them.

Distribute Proclamations.

German airplanes, the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says, are distributing proclamations calling on the Russian people to remain calm and keep order, as the Germans are coming to suppress anarchy and to bring food as soon as possible. The bolshievski are greatly perturbed and depressed. Foreign Minister Trotsky is reported to be sick in consequence of renewal of hostilities and is unable to attend meetings of the council of people's commissaries, which are being held constantly.

Anxious to Get Away.

The Times correspondent reports some anxiety in the British colony in Petrograd and the consulate there being crowded with persons wishing to get away. A military order directs all Englishmen of military age who have been exempted from service up to this time to hold themselves ready to start home at six hours' notice.

Other British subjects, especially women and children, have been advised to leave Russia without delay.

CONSTRUCTION FOREMAN HELD FOR ESPIONAGE

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 23.—Herbert P. Beck, foreman of construction for the contracting firm engaged in erecting the government projectile plant at South Charleston, was taken before United States Commissioner Thayer here today to answer to a charge of violating the espionage act, preferred by a special agent for the department of justice.

It is charged that Beck while in a Charleston restaurant made remarks in the presence of young men of draft age tending to hinder the operation of the selective military service law.

CANADIAN LEADERS TO ATTEND LONDON MEETING

Montreal, Feb. 23.—Sir Robert Boyd, prime minister of Canada, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition party, will attend an imperial conference to be held in London in March for the purpose of consulting representatives of the overseas dominions in connection with the allied spring drive on the western front, according to La Patrie, a local newspaper, on the authority of a "high political personage."

RAISING OF SALARIES RESTRICTED BY McADOO

Washington, Feb. 23.—A general order, restricting the creation of new official positions by railroads, or the raising of officers' salaries, was issued today by Director-General McAdoo.

Director-General McAdoo today also directed railroad presidents to furnish him detailed information on the salaries of officers and employees, rentals and other expenses of financial offices maintained by most roads in New York. It is understood this information may be used as a basis for determining to what extent overhead expenses involved in financial management may be curtailed or eliminated under government control.

GOETHALS MAKES THINGS GO RIGHT

Quartermaster Corps of United States Army Reorganized in Six Weeks.

(By David Lawrence.)

Washington, Feb. 23.—Usually it is the things that go wrong that are chronicled, the abnormal or the extreme. This is a story of things that are going right, a survey of the quartermaster corps of the United States army, which has been completely reorganized in the last six weeks, by Gen. George W. Goethals, the man who built the Panama canal.

In the first place Secretary Baker has given Gen. Goethals a free hand. Whatever the quartermaster-general has asked for has been granted. His grouping of bureaus and consolidation of divisions has been fully approved.

Gen. Goethals, for instance, thought that the cantonment division should properly be in charge of the engineering corps since it involved construction. The transfer has been made. The quartermaster-general has reorganized his department. He organized a general administrative bureau, a quartermaster supply control and a personnel and planning staff. Under these fall the supply and equipment division; a reclamation bureau which takes care of waste fuel and forage; a subsistence division, remount bureau and motors division.

Several other subdivisions of the bureau were reorganized. They are no less inspiring to the layman than dozens of other charts in other government departments. But when one examines the personnel, the importance of the divisions is obvious. For example, R. J. Thorne, of the big mail order house of Montgomery, Ward & Co., handles requirements and distribution; J. T. Lilley, the steamship man, is in charge of the transportation at New York; A. L. Scott, one of the best known New England merchants, is director of supplies; E. B. Wentz, coal operator, is at the head of the fuel division; and H. M. Adams, of the Missouri Pacific, is in charge of the internal transportation division.

Gen. Goethals has recruited some of the most capable business men in the country, commissioned them majors and captains and put them in charge of important bureaus. Much of the agitation for a ministry of munitions has been based on the idea that regular army officers have not had the opportunity to become experienced in the handling of large quantities of supplies.

The reorganization in the quartermaster corps is exactly along the lines of the sense that it will provide the avenues for information and activity which the hearings revealed as lacking.

General Goethals has speeded up the work all along the line, with the result that today all the clothing which our troops will wear in the summer months has been provided for, and the cantonment ports so that a cable from Gen. Parahing for needed supplies can be answered the same day by the actual movement of the supplies needed.

They will be ready always at sea-board. In other words, Gen. Goethals has already begun to increase his reserves in such quantities that there will be no danger of shortage again.

Of course, much of the difficulty up to the present has been the lack of plans among the allied. On sudden change caused Gen. Pershing to take almost a year's supply of equipment for his own forces, thus leaving the troops in America to get along as best they could.

Unity of command will tend to prevent a recurrence of these happenings, and, judging from the laudatory remarks of Premier Lloyd George about the memorandum of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss as to the organization of the Versailles war council, America is to have a direct part in the planning of the war.

To do this every man with a gun in his hand must have several backs of him making things, and fetching them up to a point where they can be used. Half of Germany's efficiency is her supply system.

Secretary Baker picked Gen. Goethals because he did a tremendous piece of organization work in building the Panama-American canal, a task on which other nations had failed down. The interesting thing to record about Gen. Goethals today is not that he is merely "planning" to do things. He has already done them. Our supply system is beginning to function smoothly.

BALL SEASON OPENS APRIL 18

One Hundred and Forty Games as Against 154 Last Season Scheduled.

DATE FOR CLOSING SEPT. 18

Chattanooga Opens Game at Atlanta, Nashville at Birmingham, Memphis at Little Rock.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 23.—After two days of work, magnates of the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs today adopted a playing schedule for 1918, selected New Orleans as the place for the next spring meeting and adjourned. The schedule this year calls for 140 games, as compared with 154 games of past seasons. The season opens April 18 and will close Sept. 8. Opening games were awarded as follows:

Chattanooga at Atlanta.
Nashville at Birmingham.
New Orleans at Mobile.
Memphis at Little Rock.

The probability of Sunday baseball at Little Rock caused practically a redrafting of the schedule as prepared by the schedule committee of the league.

SPANISH VESSEL SUNK BY U-BOAT

Madrid (Friday), Feb. 22.—The Spanish steamer Mar Caspio has been sunk by a submarine, on her way to New York with a cargo of cork. The crew was picked up by the Spanish steamer Claudio Lopez y Lopez, which also was stopped by the submarine, but later was allowed to proceed.

The captain of the Claudio Lopez y Lopez had the greatest difficulty in inducing the commander of the submarine to allow him to continue the voyage. The submarine commander wanted to sink the liner, because she was carrying a number of cars consigned to the Spanish northern railway, which is partly French-owned.

The sinking of the Spanish steamer Mar Caspio makes the third such occurrence in less than four weeks. On Jan. 28 a German submarine sunk the Spanish steamer Giralda, and on Feb. 3 the Spanish steamer Ceferino was destroyed by a U-boat. On Feb. 10 the Italian steamship Duca di Genova was sunk within Spanish territorial waters. Madrid advises Thursday reported that the Spanish government would publish the text of three notes sent to the German government concerning the sinking of the Giralda, Ceferino and Duca di Genova. In the case of the Italian steamer, Spain demanded that Spanish territorial waters be respected.

Destruction of Spanish steamers by German submarines has become more frequent. The extension of the submarine war zone takes in all the Spanish routes to North and South America.

VERNON BOOTH BRINGS DOWN GERMAN AIRPLANE

Paris, Feb. 23.—Vernon Booth, of Chicago, of the Lafayette flying corps, brought down a German airplane in a fight several miles inside the German lines.

FRENCH SHIPPING HAS WEEK WITHOUT LOSSES

Paris, Feb. 23.—No French merchantmen and no fishing vessels were sunk by German submarines or mines during the week ending Feb. 16. Three merchantmen successfully escaped submarine attacks. Steamers entering French ports totaled 619 and departing, 876.

ITALIAN LINER DODGES U-BOATS

Whole Fleet of Submarines Lying in Wait for Passenger Ship Eluded.

An Atlantic-Port, Feb. 23.—How the master of the Italian passenger liner Dante Alighieri dodged a fleet of submarines lying in wait for him in the Mediterranean by venturing a mid-night passage through an uncharted channel between a small island and the Spanish coast was related by passengers of the ship on her arrival here today.

The wisdom of the captain's move was demonstrated the following morning, they said, when lifeboats were sighted carrying passengers and the crews of three torpedoed vessels out of a convoy of five which the Dante Alighieri had passed only two hours before. The captain decided to risk wrecking his ship in the channel rather than take chances with the U-boats.

The names of the three ships were the Duca Di Genova, a passenger vessel; the Ville De Verdun and the Caprera, all Italian. The presence of the submarines in their path was learned by the master of the Dante Alighieri through wireless warning.

Passage through the uncharted and dangerous channel, only 300 feet wide was made after the master of the liner had notified all his passengers of the danger. The captain decided to risk wrecking his ship in the channel rather than take chances with the U-boats.

Capt. D. M. Nicoll and several members of the crew of the American steamship Suerena, torpedoed Dec. 30 off the Italian coast, were among the Dante Alighieri's passengers. He said his ship was one of four torpedoed within twenty minutes out of a convoy of five. He succeeded in beaching her and when he left the task of refloating her was under way.

WAS GROSS STUPIDITY ON PART AUSTRIAN AGENCY

London, Feb. 23.—The publication by the Vienna official news agency of the Polish manifesto reflecting upon Germany has given great offense, says the Zurich correspondent of Reuters, limited. According to the Munich Neueste Nachrichten, the German ambassador at Vienna has been instructed to demand an explanation. The newspaper adds that the reading of the manifesto in the reichsrath gave immunity to its publication, but that it was a piece of gross stupidity on the part of the official agency to publish it broadcast.

WARM, SAYS BILLY 'POSSUM

Neither cold nor hot nor blustery, neither fog nor blinding sun, neither winds nor stifling silence as this day enjoys its run; gentle little merrymen zephyrs, skies that mingle blue with gray—just the sort you would have ordered red fair and warmer's what I say.

MORATORIUM BILL TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

Washington, Feb. 23.—Senate and house conferees on soldiers' and sailors' civil rights, or moratorium bill, virtually reached an agreement today and next week the bill will be presented to both houses of congress with prospects of prompt final approval.

ALLIED GAINS IN EAST IMPORTANT

Capture of Jericho Deprives Turks of Chief Point in Defensive Scheme in Palestine.

London, Feb. 23.—Much importance is attached to the arrival of the British on the banks of the Jordan, Reuters learns from an authoritative source. Gen. Allenby's advance from Jerusalem was carried out under great difficulties. It was made during heavy rains, and when the British had to march over hills comparable only to masses of slippery soap.

Occupation of Jericho is an important step toward establishing touch between the British and their Arab allies. The British will be in direct contact with the Arabs for the first time. Gen. Allenby's force is now encamped along the Jordan, which probably is fairly high. It is a swift, deep and narrow stream with a very treacherous current, and is in a country which will supply food and fodder.

Position Well Defined.

With the latest advance the British position is quite well defined. The right flank rests on the Dead sea and the left on the Mediterranean sea, so if the enemy wishes to attack he can only make a frontal assault. The British now control the Dead sea and have access to the rich lands east of the sea. They also menace the railway running toward Damascus, while the country has better roads than that around Jerusalem.

Capture of Jericho, the military correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says, deprives the enemy of one of the chief local points in his defensive scheme in Palestine.

"The advance," the writer adds, "should result in the clearing out of the enemy from west of the Dead sea, since it gives the British a line right across Palestine. It endangers the enemy's motorboat flotilla which has its base at the mouth of the Jordan, cuts off from any Turks now left west of the Dead sea as well as those on the east, where they are exposed to the hold raids of the Hedjaz Arabs, their means of support from this source."

"It must not be forgotten that the Arabs are working their way up the Hedjaz railway and already have been in action directly east of the Dead sea. Turkish forces acting in Hedjaz and southern Arabia already virtually are cut off from the outside world. Gen. Allenby having scattered the Turkish forces concentrated west of Jericho, is now free to choose a line for an advance northward by whatever route seems best."

WANTED JOB TO SUPPORT THREE BELGIAN ORPHANS

Washington, Feb. 23.—Miss Jane Gregory, daughter of the attorney-general, applied at the food administration this week for an $80 a month job, giving as references Col. E. M. House and the attorney-general himself. In response to a "perfunctory" question by the employment clerk, Miss Gregory said she had three dependents.

"Three dependents?" gasped the clerk incredulously.

"Oh, yes," she replied, "I've adopted and am supporting three Belgian children."

Miss Gregory got the job.

BRITISH FORCES DRIVING TURKS BEFORE THEM

Enemy Forces Dislodged by Capture of Jericho in Palestine, Retiring to North and East, War Office in London Announces.

London, Feb. 23.—The Turkish forces dislodged by the British by the capture of Jericho, in Palestine, have retired to the north and east, the war office announces. The statement follows:

"The enemy, dislodged from the Jericho area, retired north of the Wadi Ajia, on the northern bank of which he left posts on high ground, and eastward across the Jordan, on which he holds a bridgehead at El Ghoraniye."

GERMANS APPEAR IN NO HURRY TO RESUME PEACE TALK WITH RUSSIA

(Associated Press Review.)

Peace negotiations with the Russians will not be resumed immediately by the Germans, and guerrilla warfare probably will be instituted by the bolshievski to impede the German advance, which, apparently, is not moving as swiftly as in the first days of the week. The Germans, however, are meeting with little resistance on the long line and Austrian and Ukrainian troops are approaching Kiev.

It is announced semi-officially from Berlin that Dr. Von Kuehlmann, the foreign secretary, has gone to Bucharest to discuss peace with a Rumanian emissary and therefore resumption of negotiations with the bolshievski will have to be postponed. Leon Trotsky, the bolshievski foreign minister, is reported to have left Petrograd for Dvinsk to seek an early conference with the Germans.

Bolshevik resistance seemingly depends on whether the Germans will accept readily the capitulation of the government. It is apparent, however, that the Germans, with the Rumanian negotiations as an excuse, are going to push their campaign in the Baltic provinces before answering the Russians. In the region east and north of Dvinsk and along the Gulf of Finland the Germans have advanced further from the south, while east of Minsk they are nearing the line of the Berezina, in crossing which in 1812 Napoleon suffered a serious defeat while retreating from Moscow.

With the regular army and navy seriously demoralized the bolshievski leaders are placing their faith in the red guards and guerrilla warfare by the inhabitants of the invaded districts. The Russian commander of the northern front reports the Germans advancing in detachments of from 100 to 200 men and not as regimental units.

Except for artillery duels there has been no fighting activity on the western front. On the American sector the bombardment by the big guns continues. German raiders were dispersed by American fire, while rain has put a temporary halt to the intense aerial activity. A French mortar shell has caused the death of three Americans and the wounding of four others. British airmen have accounted for nine more enemy airplanes, bringing their total for the past six days to nearly 100. There has been no let-up in the intensive bombing of German air-dromes and other targets.

NO SENTENCE YET IN CASE NARCOTICS TRUST HEAD

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 23.—Pending request for a new trial, Federal Judge Call has not yet sentenced Peyton Hammers, found guilty here yesterday of complicity with his brother, Dr. R. C. Hammers, who is held in New York in the belief that he was a principal in one of the largest combinations in this country for the illegal sale of narcotics.

Peyton Hammers was arrested at Memphis last winter, after he had fled from Tampa when he learned of the arrest of his brother in New York. Revenue officers raided Dr. Hammers' place here and found thousands of dollars' worth of narcotics. Peyton Hammers and Dr. Walter Rogers were arrested at the same time. Rogers had been Dr. Hammers' assistant, and, it is said, supplied the federal authorities with evidence. It is understood he will not be prosecuted.

Dr. Hammers will be tried either here or in New York.

HAWAIIAN VOLCANO HAS PASSED DANGER STAGE

Honolulu, Feb. 23.—The lava in Kilauea volcano, after rising twenty-two feet to within a foot of the ridge, has receded three feet and has apparently passed the danger of overflowing. Interest reports stated. The lake of lava is building up in the center so that the level of the lake proper was above visitors' feet, it was said.
